

THE GENEVA RESORT, located at the sight of the present Orem Marina Park, was named after Geneva Dallin, daughter of the owner, John Dallin, who bought the sight in 1888. The resort boasted a state-wide reputation around the turn of the century. It burned down in the late 1930's. The photo comes from the book, "Sagebrush to Steel."

